

Media Release Park Weggis

A new chapter in the 150-year history of the Park Weggis

Weggis, July 12, 2017. Park Weggis Management AG is planning to transfer its eponymous luxury hotel to a new ownership. A corresponding agreement has been signed. The future owner, Dogus Health & Wellness AG, based in Lucerne, will manage the Park Weggis under the auspices of the Chenot Group, which is engaged in the medical wellness sector.

The current owner acquired the hotel 20 years ago and developed it over the years from a seasonally managed four-star establishment to an exclusive five-star superior resort. Park Weggis is a member of the two prestigious Swiss Deluxe Hotels and Relais & Châteaux hotel chains.

Refurbishment and a new construction project with inauguration scheduled for December 2018

The plans for the restructuring of the Park Weggis require the hotel's closure as from September 30, 2017. Until this date, the five-star hotel will continue to operate as usual under the proven management of Peter Kämpfer. Reopening is planned for the end of 2018. The result will be a high-quality health wellness hotel, fully aligned with the Chenot Group's successful philosophy.

The current and future owners are convinced that the realignment will generate high added value for the Lake Lucerne region. The health wellness hotel will develop additional hospitality segments in the health tourism sector and ideally complement the Weggis Vitznau Rigi wellness destination.

About the Hotel Park Weggis

The Park Weggis features a total of 52 exclusive rooms and suites, two restaurants, two bars and a festive hall. Additionally to its own private lake access including a park and beach, an extensive wellness area completes the offer. Further information is available at www.parkweggis.ch.
